GUIDELINES FOR THE PRUDENT

- Webster's 1828 Dictionary defines prudent as "cautious; circumspect; practically wise; careful of the consequences of enterprises, measures or actions; cautious not to act when the end is of doubtful utility". Prudence "implies caution in deliberating and consulting on the most suitable means to accomplish valuable purposes".
- Proverbs 16:21a – "The wise in heart shall be called prudent:"
- Proverbs 11:14 – "Where no counsel is, the people fall: but in the multitude of counsellors there is safety."
- Proverbs 13:19a – "The desire accomplished is sweet to the soul:"
- The Holy Spirit should control our mind, and our mind should control our body. (I Corinthians 6:19-20; II Corinthians 10:4-5; Philippians 2:5)
- Short-term accomplishments fulfill long-term desires.

MISCELLANEOUS TIPS OF THE PRUDENT

- The prudent seek first the kingdom of God and His righteousness. (Matthew 6:33)
  - Becoming prudent is really not that hard. You can learn to make more without earning more, just by developing prudent habits.
  - Your primary focus shouldn't be making more money; it should be to use wisely the money God has provided.
  - Make a commitment to live beneath your means, so that you will have extra funds to invest in God's work.
  - Pray before you spend money. You and your money belong to the Lord.
  - Assess your spending habits and attitudes to determine how much you need to change your lifestyle.
- Network with prudent, godly folks to get new and better ideas about saving money.
  - The prudent are well organized when it comes to money. They've learned that keeping files, planning shopping excursions, making lists, and using coupons saves them time and money.
  - The prudent ask a lot of questions, and they're not shy about it, particularly when they're shelling out their hard-earned money. When they get answers that don't seem to add up, they just say "no" instead of being coerced into doing something they are not comfortable with.
  - The prudent are never afraid to ask for a discount, even when there's no reason to think they'll get one. They can save thousands of dollars a year that way.
  - Prudent folks keep from overspending the same way dieters lose weight; they tighten their belts. Break down your spending habits into bite-sized portions and they'll be easier to reform.
  - One bite at a time, systematically begin to spend less than you earn.
  - Drop shopping buddies that tempt you to spend money.
  - Ease into taking control of your spending by doing more thinking about how much you really need the products and services you're used to, and what other options there are. You'll probably end up crossing some things off your list altogether.
  - Be patient with yourself; learning how to spend smarter takes practice!
  - The prudent have plans. They sit down and set financial goals for themselves and their families, and they stick to them. Whether they follow a strict budget or religiously save a certain amount every month, or both, they have a financial plan of action.
  - If they don't really need something, or the timing isn't right for buying it, the prudent have great sales resistance.
